(S/AC.25/1994/COMM.3009)]

TXT[His authorities had considered that option, but had decided that it was not possible under the regime established by the Security Council resolutions regarding Iraq, although that could be possible under other sanctions regimes. When the sanctions against Iraq were lifted, of course, the Government of Jamaica would still owe that debt to Iraq, which would then become payable.]
